SpreadLove Supports the Rise of Female Entrepreneurs

TAMPA, FLA. (PRWEB) DECEMBER 05, 2017

SpreadLove™ announces its 2018 Wealth-Building Conference at Sea, setting sail on October 13, 2018, with a panel of successful female leaders across multiple industries. The mission of this new platform is to support and advance women's interests through the promotion of financial literacy, self-love, and healthy business and personal relationships. This 8-day event will educate and inform participants about various revenue streams, including those derived from entrepreneurship and investing, as well as strategies on branding, attracting your target market, integrating social media and starting a new business from the ground up.

"A change in mindset is a prerequisite to a change in circumstances," said Esther JeanBart, Founder and CEO of SpreadLove™. Our conference participants will engage with influential leaders for 8 days and 7 nights in a variety of business and social settings. I am passionate about entrepreneurship and financial freedom. These concepts are my driving force, so I am excited to present this opportunity for women to make new connections, learn new business practices and strategies, learn how to invest, and form new habits that can lead to personal success."

The 2018 Wealth-Building Conference At Sea will be held aboard the luxurious Royal Caribbean International ship Harmony of the Seas from October 13, 2018, to October 20, 2018, departing from Ft. Lauderdale and stopping at Labadee, Haiti; Falmouth, Jamaica; and Cozumel, Mexico. The conference will feature guest speakers, workshops, vendors, and parties with guest DJs. As philanthropy is an important component to SpreadLove's ongoing efforts, there will be charity-related activities in Haiti during the cruise (more details to come). The keynote speaker will be announced at a future date.
